Kao istinski je zaljubljenik u američku glazbu, poglavito blues i jazz, vrlo rano imao prilike nastupati s nekim od najeminentnijih američkih blues-pionira, kao što su Bukka White, Son House, gitaristički guru John Fahey i britanska blues-pjevačica Jo Ann Kelly.

Woody Mann poznat je ne samo kao gitarist nego i kao povjesničar, filmski producent, uspješan poslovni čovjek i utjecajan učitelj koji je znanje prenosio brojnim studentima diljem SAD-a, Europe i Azije, a među njegovim dugogodišnjim učenicima jesu i neki od svjetski poznatih i priznatih izvođača, poput Paula Simona.

Woody Mann had the opportunity to learn from great masters; he perfected his guitar playing technique for four years with the legendary ragtime blues guitarist Reverend Gary Davis, and later studied improvisation for five years with the Chicago jazz visionary Lennie Tristano. As a true lover of American music, especially blues and jazz, early on he had the opportunity to perform with some of the most eminent American blues pioneers such as Bukka White, Son House, the guitarist guru John Fahey, and the British blues singer Jo Ann Kelly. Woody Mann is famous not only as a guitar player but also as a historian, film producer, successful businessman and influential teacher who has passed on his knowledge to numerous students across the USA, Europe and Asia.
